Chris Wallace, host of "Fox News Sunday," recently sat down with eyewitness Clint Hill, a Secret Service agent who was part of the presidential motorcade, to discuss the events of that fateful day.

Hill's account of the assassination is both gripping and heartbreaking. He describes the moment he heard the first shot and saw Kennedy slump over in his seat. He also describes the chaos that ensued in the aftermath of the shooting, as the motorcade sped away from Dealey Plaza.

Wallace's interview with Hill is a must-watch for anyone who is interested in the JFK assassination. It is a powerful and moving account of one of the most significant events in American history.

The Assassination

On November 22, 1963, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Texas. He was shot and killed by Lee Harvey Oswald, a former U.S. Marine who had defected to the Soviet Union.

The assassination took place as Kennedy's motorcade was traveling through Dealey Plaza. Oswald fired three shots from a sixth-floor window of the Texas School Book Depository. The first shot missed Kennedy, but the second and third shots hit him in the head and neck.

Kennedy was rushed to Parkland Memorial Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 1:00 p.m. CST.

The Aftermath

The assassination of John F. Kennedy was a watershed moment in American history. It led to a period of national mourning and introspection. It also sparked a wave of conspiracy theories that continue to circulate to this day.

In the immediate aftermath of the assassination, Lee Harvey Oswald was arrested and charged with Kennedy's murder. Oswald was shot and killed by Jack Ruby, a Dallas nightclub owner, on November 24, 1963.

The Warren Commission, a presidential commission appointed to investigate the assassination, concluded that Oswald acted alone in killing

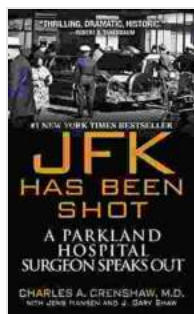

Kennedy. However, many people believe that there was a conspiracy to assassinate Kennedy, and that Oswald was just a patsy.

Clint Hill's Account

Clint Hill was a Secret Service agent who was part of the presidential motorcade on November 22, 1963. He was riding in the follow-up car behind Kennedy's limousine.

Hill's account of the assassination is both gripping and heartbreaking. He describes the moment he heard the first shot and saw Kennedy slump over in his seat. He also describes the chaos that ensued in the aftermath of the shooting, as the motorcade sped away from Dealey Plaza.

Hill's account is a powerful and moving reminder of the tragedy of the JFK assassination. It is a story that should never be forgotten.
